LIGHTNING IS ADDING TO FIRE DANGERS THROUGH NORTHWESTERN REGION

Change in Wind Brings Temporary Safety to Town of St. Regis, Montana.
Blazes Destroy Timber in Hundreds of Places Throughout Four States

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Much of the Pacific Northwest was under a pall of smoke from grass, brush and forest fires burning today in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.
Lightning was responsible for a number of new blazes reported and high wind in many places overcame the temporary advantage, brought by the slight rainfall which accompanied the thunderstorms, to the thousands of fire fighters who have been for weeks waging an almost ceaseless struggle against the flames.
In western Montana and northern Idaho, according to forest officials, there have been 612 fires since June 10. About 2,500 men are employed in fighting the fires in that territory.
A change in the wind last night brought temporary safety to the little town of St. Regis, Mont., which for several days had been threatened by fires on three sides. The most serious fire, to the north of St. Regis, covered an area 30 miles in circumference.
Three crews of 300 men each were fighting a fire along a 15 miles front in the Blackfoot forest adjoining Glacier National Park, on the west.
It had covered 15,000 acres and the only hope of extinguishing it was said to be in a heavy rain. Eleven fires were burning in the Flathead forest in Montana.
Fires in Washington were confined to slashings, but were reported spreading rapidly and threatening standing timber.
Fires at several points in Oregon followed an electrical storm yesterday.

Dairy Manager Fined Under Ohio State Act

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 21.—W. H. Bitner, general manager of a local dairy company, was found guilty in police court here today of selling unclean milk and also selling skimmed milk. He was fined $100 and costs.
The charges were filed several weeks ago in the campaign to secure better milk for Springfield. In the skimmed milk case the company says it was doing what has been the practice in Ohio and other states for years, that is standardizing the milk. It contended that the statute prohibiting the selling of skimmed milk was obsolete.
In the unclean milk case it developed at the trial that a bottle of milk contained coal cinders.

WILL CONTINUE PROBE OF ARMY COURTS-MARTIAL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, July 24.—The special house war investigation committee which yesterday heard war department records showing that three commissioned and five non-commissioned officers had been court-martialed because of brutalities in handling American prisoners at camps in and near Paris, today were considering the advisability of calling additional witnesses. It was believed that if more witnesses are called they will include a number of army officers of high rank.

The records submitted to the committee yesterday by General March, chief of staff, gave the first official confirmation to reports of cruel treatment by their own officers of American soldiers in France which have created an indignant stir in congressional circles. Names of the officers' court-martialed were given in a cablegram from General Pershing and from reports of Brigadier General Edward R. Kresser, acting judge advocate general. They included Lieutenant F. H. Smith, known in the service as "Hardboiled," Smith, who is serving a sentence of 18 months at Governor's Island for his part in ill treatment of prisoners under his charge at "Farm No. 2, near Paris."

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 24.—The 158th infantry, some of whose commissioned and non-commissioned officers are shown by the records to have been sentenced in connection with charges of cruelties to American soldiers, prisoners in France, went overseas from Camp Kearney in command of Colonel E. P. Grinstead. Government inspectors had referred to this organization, which originated in Arizona, as the best national guard infantry regiment in the country.

It was President Wilson's guard of honor when he arrived at Paris, December 1918. All of its officers, it was recalled today, signed a pledge at the time the United States went into the war, to drink no intoxicants until peace was declared and was called "the dry regiment."

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT SUGGESTS CHANGES IN LEAGUE PACT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, July 24.—A program of interpretations to be included in Senate ratification of the peace treaty in order to insure support of the Republicans favorable to a league idea is suggested in letters from former President William Howard Taft to Will H. Hays, Republican National Chairman, copies of which are in the hands of Republican Senators.
The letters suggest six "interpretations," covering the right of withdrawal, limiting the representation of dominions and colonies, asserting the prerogative of Congress to declare war under Article X, confirming national control over domestic issues, defining the Monroe Doctrine and reserving the right to terminate obligations under Article X, at the end of 10 years.
Mr. Taft wrote that these interpretations would not weaken the league covenant, but, he believed, would assure ratification.
He suggested that he should not appear publicly at this time as his sponsor because it might bias certain Republicans against them.

GENERAL PERSHING HOLDING LITTLE GODSON IN HIS ARMS

General Pershing fights because that is his profession. Children are his hobby. It was no difficult task to induce him to put aside his sword long enough recently to act as sponsor at the christening of the infant son of Captain and Mrs. Sandys Davies at Fernhill, Parish church, near Faversham, England. He is seen here with the baby in his arms.

GERMANY TO LEVY HEAVY TAX YEARLY UPON ALL CLASSES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
BERLIN, July 24.—Germany's financial program, calling for the raising of 25,000,000 marks annually, agreed upon by Matthias Erzberger, minister of finance, and a group of experts, was published by the North German Gazette. The conference was said to be in complete agreement with the financial reforms.
Eight billion marks will be obtained by war taxes, according to the Gazette's summary of the proposed plan. The remaining 17,000,000,000 must be raised from new resources. The first of these will be a heavy increase in the taxes on business turnover. The second new source of income is called "the imperial sacrifice to needs." The third new set of taxes will be on the necessities of life.

An important part of the program will be the imperial income tax, which will be a tax on profits from invested capital. These capital profits will be taxed from 25 to 30 per cent, according to a newly evolved system that is intended to eliminate inequalities and protect small capitalists from being overburdened.
Minister Erzberger told the experts that Germany must pay the allies 20,000,000,000 marks gold by May 1, 1920. He said this could be done, as the amounts already credited Germany by the allies for various accounts form an important part of the required total.

GERMANY TO HAVE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Prime Minister Warns Nation Against a Hasty Revolution.

Hungarians and Rumanians Continue Skirmish at Front in East.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WEIMAR, July 24.—In addressing the national assembly today Gustav Adolf Bauer, the premier, alluding to the recent strikes, warned the country against a hasty revolution, which he said could only be a counter-revolution, resulting in disaster.

The premier admitted that the great masses of the people had ground for discontent and said it was the government's task to remove any just reason for this. The remedy he added, was a law regulating workers' councils and economic councils, which the government would draft.

There would also be a bill, the premier announced, to nationalize electric power stations, electricity and the production of lignite. The premier offered a long exposition of the government's policy which he said was one of socialization. He declared that the socialization of other mines would follow that of the lignite mines and said a democratic state possessing railways, electricity and mines would be in a position to give to Germany's economic life that form of contentment which he considered right and possible.

"We shall need to work and to labor," the premier said in conclusion. "We have to renew our national life and give national thought on the foundation of the league of nations idea. On the growth of the strengthening of the idea our hope must rest and from it must come a revision of the peace treaty."

VIENNA, July 24.—Skirmishing continues between the Rumanians and Hungarians. The latter have crossed the river Theiss at points between Tokai, 110 miles northeast of Budapest and Csongrad, 75 miles southeast of Budapest, the river being low.

Bela Kun, the communist leader, declared he was grieved thus to punish the allies but said he had notified Premier Clemenceau that action was necessary "if the Rumanians did not retreat from the territory given the soviet by the peace conference."

A Vienna dispatch under date of July 21 said that the Vienna newspapers reported the downfall of Bela Kun and the taking over of power by a triumvirate composed of Varga, former minister of social protection, Moses Alpari and Tibor Szamueli.

OIL WELL MADE THIS GOB A MILLIONAIRE, BUT HE WON'T TRY TO QUIT STOKER'S JOB

E. L. Perkins.
If you were a gob and had been kept on the jump feeding coal into the capacious maw of the U. S. S. Imperator and somebody drilled an oil well on your ranch in Texas and you suddenly had an income of $480,000—what would you do? E. L. Perkins, stoker on the giant transport to whom this very thing happened, has two years and five months to serve yet and he says he is not going to seek his discharge. When he is out of the navy he is going to try to do good with his money, he says, and as the oil well is increasing its output it is believed that soon his income will be a million dollars.

Federal Capital Quieting Down

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Although there were reports of isolated outbreaks by negroes, including the firing into a street car last night passed without serious renewal of the race rioting which has terrorized the national capital since Saturday. Presence of 2,000 armed soldiers and co-operation generally by the public with the request of the city authorities that street traffic be held to a minimum resulted in quieting the situation and both the military and city officers expressed their belief there will be no more serious trouble.

The death list was brought to six with the death of Louis Haycock, a marine who was shot Monday night in front of the treasury as he stood on a platform waiting to board a car. A negro employed as a watchman at the treasury is charged with killing the marine.

LABOR INDORSSES CANDIDATE.
YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 24.—When a motion to endorse the candidacy of Harry Dunsbaugh for mayor came up at the United Labor Congress here last night it was found that the constitution prohibited such action. The congress proceeded to set aside the constitution by motion and endorsed Dunsbaugh.

ATTEMPT MADE TO REACH MIDDLE GROUND IN THE FIGHT ON RATIFICATION

Karolyi Denies Being Agitator

VIENNA, July 24.—The object of the reported attempt of Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, to sail from Italy for the United States, it is stated here, is to enlist sympathy and help for the political and industrial reconstruction of Hungary and to secure better territorial conditions. Count Karolyi is also said to intend writing a book dealing with conditions in the Hungarian republic during the past eight months.
He has no intention of attempting communistic agitation.

President Has Completed Interviews With Leaders of the Opposition.

White House Statement Denies Wilson Aided Japs in Shantung Deal.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, July 24.—Former President Taft, who has written to several republican senators and leaders suggesting reservations to the peace treaty which might be acceptable to both sides, has opened correspondence on the subject with prominent democratic senators. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, one of the leading spokesmen for the administration in the senate fight received a letter today from Mr. Taft.

Although Senators McNary, Oregon; McCumber, North Dakota and others conditionally favoring the league expressed confidence that in the end most of the democrats and many republicans would unite on a middle ground, the democratic leaders remained unchanged in their attitude favoring unreserved ratification. The senate had in store another day of debate on the treaty and the foreign relations committee planned to continue its reading of the long document, but the major interest centered in the informal discussions among senators about reservations and Mr. Taft's suggestions along that line.

These suggestions, the first to come from the former president in support of reservations became generally known yesterday through receipt of letters written by Mr. Taft to Will H. Hays, the republican national chairman. It was learned, however, that he also had written Senators McNary, McCumber and others who have favored the league idea, and it was understood the work of framing a definite reservation program along the lines suggested was well under way.

Three senators had given notice they would speak today on the treaty. Senators Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, and Fletcher, democrat, Florida, discussing the league or nations, and Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, the Shantung provision.

President Wilson had no engagements today with republican senators for discussion of the treaty and the league covenant. Senators visiting the White House yesterday were the last on the list of 15 selected by the president but it was said that invitations to other senators would go forward as Mr. Wilson desired to confer.

U. S. PLANE IS OFF ON FLIGHT OF 8,000 MILES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, July 24.—An army bombing plane carrying a crew of five, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel R. S. Hartz, left the ground here at 10 a. m. on the first leg of a flight of nearly 8,000 miles around the rim of the country. The first stop scheduled is Augusta, Me., 550 miles from Washington.

The flight is the longest ever attempted by the army air service and will carry the machine through 31 states, over 95 cities and cover long stretches of the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts as well as the Canadian border.

Colonel Hartz was accompanied by reserve pilots Lieutenants Ernest E. Harmon and Lotha A. Smith, and Mechanics Sergeant John Harding, Jr., and Master Electrician Jeremiah Tobias. The first stop today will be at Hazelhurst field, Long Island. Tomorrow the airman will proceed from Augusta to Cleveland, 650 miles.

The general line to be followed will carry the machine in order to Duluth, Minn., Seattle, Wash., San Diego, Cal., San Antonio, Texas, Miami, Fla., and back to Washington. The actual measured distance of the route is 7805 miles.

The machine used is a two-engine craft known as the U. S. Martin bomber.

Goodyear Offers To Pay Damages In Big Disaster

CHICAGO, July 24.—G. M. Stadelman, vice president of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, owners of the ill-fated dirigible which cost 15 lives and injury to 28 other persons when it burned and crashed through the skylight of the Illinois Trust & Savings bank Monday, has issued a statement through his attorney saying that the company will pay all expenses caused by the accident.

"Any families who have suffered because of this accident will only have to present the bills to our company to have them paid," the statement said, "irrespective of what the investigations may disclose to our responsibility we wish to be allowed to afford all possible facilities for the care of persons and families afflicted."

The company also offered to assume full financial responsibility for damages wrought in the bank. Because of the lack of law covering the case, it is probable there will be no criminal prosecution.

ALAND ISLAND REPORT.
PARIS, July 24.—The Baltic commission of the peace conference presented a report today recommending that the Aland Islands, between Sweden and Finland at the mouth of the Gulf of Bothnia, be neutralized under the guarantee of the league of nations.

CITY AND COUNTY DISAGREEING ON BRIDGE BUILDING

Several bids for $26,000 worth of bonds for the city's share of the cost of the new Metcalf street bridge over Ottawa River, were received by City Auditor Rupert, Thursday. These bids will be opened Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The new Metcalf street bridge will cost approximately $14,000 of which the city will pay $26,000, while the county pays the remaining $18,000. According to city officials, notwithstanding the fact that the county pays the small end of the costs, it wants to handle the construction of the project, awarding the contract and superintending the work.

When questioned as to whether or not the city will allow this, officials stated, they do not know just what will be done.

JURORS FIND FOOD ROTTING IN COLD STORAGE CONCERN

CINCINNATI, July 24.—"This is an outrage! It is a shame to allow this food to rot when thousands are in need of it! No wonder the high cost of living is keeping up!"

Members of the Hamilton county grand jury thus expressed themselves during the inspection of a plant of a cold storage company. The jurors found large quantities of food supplies in cold storage and while most of the food was in good condition, consignments of food and vegetables were in such condition that they were condemned on the spot by City Food Inspector Eugene Schmitt, who accompanied the grand jury on its tour of inspection.

Although the jury foreman, John Sauer, cautioned all the jurors to keep their own counsel and say nothing, individual members openly expressed themselves. J. J. Hart, superintendent of the cold storage plant, conducted the party through the building. Hart explained that it was not the desire of his company to allow food to rot in the place, that they merely rented the space and preferred to have the food kept moving.

CINCINNATI, July 24.—County Prosecutor Capelle suggested to the Hamilton county grand jury when it met today to discuss the results of its tour of inspection at a plant of a cold storage company that State Secretary of Agriculture Shaw be requested to send a special deputy to Cincinnati to co-operate with the city health department in the food investigation.

A number of Lima people have read the story with enjoyment.

RUBBER HOSE FOR GAS IS UNDER BAN

If you are using a utilizing rubber hose for a gas connection, you had better get rid of it at once, for Fire Chief John Mack and Deputy State Fire Marshal A. C. Ewing, this afternoon started a house to house canvass in an effort to ascertain all parties using this hose for connections, and according to the fire marshal, will be prosecuted.

The canvass, according to Chief Mack, will be continued until every house in the city is investigated. The fire marshal says, many thousands of dollars worth of property is lost each year as a result of rubber hose connections.

Marshal Ewing this afternoon stated the Lima Natural Gas company, like other similar concerns all over the state, has agreed not to install a meter until a contract has been signed by the consumer to the effect that rubber hose will not be used in connection.

Measles Leads Ohio Diseases

COLUMBUS, July 24.—Measles is Ohio's most prevalent communicable disease at present, according to June reports to the state department of health. With a total of 2,512 cases reported to date, it was considered that delayed reports would bring the June figures close to the total of 2,626 reached in May.

Diphtheria prevalence rose in June. The health department advised immediate use of anti-toxin in suspected cases of this disease and urged upon health officers the importance of maintaining quarantine until the patient's recovery is established by two laboratory examinations of throat cultures with negative results.

Reported cases of influenza numbered only 50 in June, indicating that the epidemic is not entirely past.

Chickenpox, mumps, pneumonia, scarlet fever, and whooping cough showed decreases in June, as compared with May reports.

LIQUOR CELLAR ROBBED.

TOLERO, July 24.—Mistaking a voice at his door for that of a friend, J. H. Weaver opened it last night and was knocked unconscious. He was carried into a barn and his assailants then entered Weaver's cellar and removed thirty cases of liquor.

FOREST FIRES IN MICHIGAN SERIOUS

DETROIT, July 24.—Forest fires in northern Michigan have again assumed serious proportions, according to advices received here this forenoon.

It is reported that Dollar Settlement, on the Whitefish bay shore, about 30 miles northwest of Sault Ste Marie, was wiped out late yesterday but that all residents moved out in time.

In the northern part of the lower peninsula fire has broken out anew east of Mancelona, in Antrim county. One of the largest camps owned by the Antrim Iron Company was destroyed this morning, and volunteer fire fighters have been rushed to the scene it being reported a high wind is sweeping the flames around a small settlement where 30 families reside. In Kalkaska county women in overalls yesterday joined in fighting flames that threatened the village of Sharon.

CAVE-IN FORTUNATE

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 24.—Several people had a narrow escape from injury today when one side of a two story brick building, occupied by the Woolworth Five and Ten cent store, caved in. Workmen excavating for a cellar in the adjoining lot were struck with flying brick but none seriously injured. The cave-in occurred during the lunch hour, which, perhaps, prevented loss of life. The damage done is estimated at $4,000 to the building and about $1,000 to stock.

Congress Plans To Deport Aliens

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Included in legislation which the house expects to dispose of before the proposed recess to begin next month will be a bill for the deportation of 500 enemy aliens now at internment camps and a measure to prevent foreign ships from engaging in coastwise trade. A tentative legislative state was agreed on at a party conference of republicans last night but framing of a definite program was left to the steering committee for a report at another conference next week.

CALDWELL, N. J., July 24.—The navy rifle range near here, where the national rifle matches were to be held in August under the auspices of the navy department, was flooded last night when the Passaic river overflowed its banks. VANDALS CUTTING TELEPHONE WIRES.

CLEVELAND, O., July 24.—Fresh deeds of vandalism were perpetrated against the Cleveland (Bell) Telephone company some time before daybreak today, when wire cutters severed additional cables, putting almost 900 telephones out of service, in the Broadway and Eddy exchanges. According to Allard C. Smith, general manager of the company, 33,000 telephones have been affected during the past 72 hours through cutting of cables.

The cable between Akron and Cleveland had also been cut, rendering useless during the night, temporarily tying up service between the two cities.

A Chance For a World Peace

PRESIDENT WILSON'S return to America bearing the world's greatest peace treaty, together with the covenant of the League of Nations, has started the battle that will decide whether the United States will make possible the most ambitious and only practicable attempt to keep the world at peace.

Although the senate has debated and wrangled over the League of Nations for months these affairs are now considered merely as skirmishes and attempted ambushes. Then the opponents of the league were learnedly discussing a matter of which they had no official knowledge and little information of an unofficial nature. That situation permitted flights of fancy, such as the prediction that Uncle Sam would have to patrol the world and walk a beat in the Balkans or Kamehakea, or be governed by the black, brown and yellow races. Now these Republican "nonpartisan" enemies of the league have the official treaty before them and must discuss its provisions, thus being curtailed in the use of much lurid "patroism" and fireworks of "pure Americanism."

The president has reported to the senate briefly, telling of the high ideals that actuated the framers of the treaty, reserving his heavy ammunition for the real battles to come. Confident of eventual success he has challenged his opponents to summon him for first-hand knowledge of the "inside" doings at Paris, and, with the reluctance born of chagrin, they will do so.

The "getting from under" method of complete surrender is new working nicely. Many of those anti-Wilson chorists known to history as the "round robins" are perfectly well aware that they will vote for the ratification of the league covenant eventually, even without amendment or reservation. So, paving the way for their submission to the mandate of the nation at large, they are preparing mattresses in the shape of "reservations" to break their fall on the day the final vote is taken. If each and every reservation fails, the alibi of the hopeless fight is at hand, and further consideration will be found in the probable announcement that "the business interests of the country demanded that peace should be formally declared."

Woodrow Wilson has proved his ability to arouse the people by tours of the country before this. He is the avowed crusader for the League of Nations, and when he couches his lance in rest for the combat with his gift of idealism deftly molded with practicalities many a partisan enemy in the senate will roll in the dust of public condemnation.

Cruelties in Prison Camps

THE COMPLAINTING witnesses testifying at the investigation of cruelties in prison camps in France, make out rather strong cases. Half a dozen of these witnesses testified that they were knocked down by officers and otherwise brutally treated. They also testified that the food served them was very poor, and that their bedding was not good.

But, however, tender of sympathy one may be, however much he may favor the private soldier as against the officer, it is not safe to form opinions of the whole army based upon the testimony of these few witnesses. In the first place, they were confined in the prison camp themselves, showing upon its face that they were not ideal soldiers, and in the next place, half a dozen isolated instances do not constitute enough evidence upon which to condemn a whole army. Besides, we must not lose sight of the fact that a war was raging, and men were fighting and dying on the field of battle.

The theory of the army is that every punishment inflicted is for the safety of the men at the front. It seems a small fraction of the rules that a man is absent without leave and the punishment meted out for the offense often seems harsh. But a thousand years of military experience has developed the fact that it is dangerous to an army to have a single man out of his proper place. The boys up in front engaged at death grips with the enemy, would not themselves deal lightly with a fellow who failed to report for duty upon the minute. And the father of a boy up at the front would have little sympathy for a soldier arrested for being absent from his place without leave.

Without meaning to cast any reflection upon a witness at the investigation now being held by a congressional committee, it can be stated that these thousands of fighting men who have returned to us, heroes, are not the ones who complain of ill treatment at officers' hands at the hands of the food nor at the nature of the bedding. We have had several hundred thousand of these real fighting men with us in the past, and they have told their stories in the many neighborly talks to which they have returned. But we do not hear tales of hardship or of ill-treatment from them nor complaints about the way they were treated by their officers. And all things considered, we much prefer the testimony of the fighting men at the front to that of the fellow who spent his time in a prison camp, even if he says he was mistreated.

THE WHITE BLOOD CORPUSCLES—HOW THEY FIGHT YOUR WARS

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (John Hopkins University)

The battles of France and Belgium were hardly more interesting than the affairs in which your white blood corpuscles are constantly engaged. There is an ever expanding field of romance about the leucocytes, those tiny white transparent animalcules which live and lead an independent existence in your blood, lymph, marrow and tissue generally. The advanced outposts of human defense against poisons, foreign matter, bacteria, microbes and other enemies of mankind, the leucocytes also take their major share of the real battle against boils, carbuncles, fevers, inflammations, infections, disease, tumors and poisonings.

The very act of digestion depends physiologically in a measure upon the white blood corpuscles. When the mouth, stomach and intestines are engaged in the act of converting complex food substances into simple ones, which the tissues of life can absorb—that is after you have eaten heartily of a rich meal—the leucocytes rush forth as if at the range of battle from the bone marrow, lymph glands and other banks and garages, and like hordes or reserves sent forth in motor buses and caissons, the white corpuscles appear in large numbers from their hiding places in the blood.

Agencies of Health
They are not merely animalcules of an amorphous character. They transport much material to the cells. They digest much in themselves. They also produce and shed enzymes, those powerful agencies which can do many things but do not dirty the body. They become altered themselves in war.

After meals, when wheat, oats, corn, other grain rich in proteins is consumed, the number of leucocytes which make an expedition to the walls of the stomach and intestines is greatly augmented. Indeed, there is a blood change due chiefly to this mere sea variety of white blood corpuscles. Curious enough there is also a simultaneous augmentation of the leucocytes in the bone marrow. This increase is not only apparent in the blood, but the reproduction, division and multiplication of the white corpuscles can be seen.

What Experiments Show
Experiments have been made in several physiological laboratories to explain this. When the proteins in the diet are increased by the addition of lean meats, the number of leucocytes in the blood is increased. This has been ascertained to be due to the direct production of new corpuscles from the flow of the pancreatic agent in the blood stream.

It has been discovered by recent studies, observations and experiments that leucocytosis, which means an increase of white corpuscles in the blood, is a normal reaction to a good many of our habits. When leucocytosis is present in the blood it is usually a desirable sign. When found with symptoms of illness or cold it means perhaps an infection. It is in the case of a measles infection that it is most noticeable. When found with symptoms of illness or cold it means perhaps an infection. It is in the case of a measles infection that it is most noticeable.

The battles of the leucocytes in the blood are a field of a cloth of steel, however, at night the endless wars in your health and long life.

good health and inheritance. Some so-called freckle remedies contain irritants such as mercury. Commonly, no matter what is used, freckles usually return, and if the skin peels it is better to stop the use of all remedies, because more harm may be done than benefit received. As a trial try a little of one dram salicylic acid to one ounce of alcohol.

MOTHER Q.—When should a baby be weaned, and what should it be given to eat?

A.—Babies ought to be weaned at 12 months. At 18 months it should be given boiled milk, eggs, cereals, oranges, Nestle's food, toast, butter, potatoes, zwieback, sponge cakes, carrot juice and spinach.

MRS. A. H. Q.—What shall I do for circles under my eyes?

A.—What seems often a skin invasion is removed with a little soap, water or spirits of chloroform. If the dark circles are really in the skin a few good long nights of sleep and a purgative may rid you of them.

MARION Q.—What do you advise for pimples?

A.—Apply a little of the following to the affected parts:

Sulphur lot.	1/2 dram
Balsam Peru	1/2 dram
Camphor	1/2 dram
Green soap	1 dram
Lanolin	1 ounce
Vaseline	1 ounce

TAKING SOMETHING

A. I risked my throat and throat, but into the car driver's hand she saw that he was wet and apparently cold after the half hour of parking.

Do you see the anything when you get out soaked through?

Yes, I do, said the driver,
 I hardly do.

Wait here just a minute, and he ran up her steps, inserted her key in the lock, opened the door, and a rush of air came in a moment when she had come down to the car, she gave out a small cry, here are two or three sprays, she said, you see two of them now and two more in an hour.

John Lewis was the most bashful man in a village. For three years he had been keeping company with Miss James, but he could not tell her his name in the popping party. One Sunday night as he was looking at her in the moonlight, he said to her, "I am the man, who told you to this under the hill of the village's sweet heart."

Look, said the girl, exclaimed in surprise, you have been coming to see a daughter or several years now and I want to know what your intentions are.

Was well, said the stammerer,
 I am planning to marry her.

Amazement, said the old man, well do you think it about time that you do?

Short Stories of the Buckeye State

OWNED LAND IN OHIO.

It is an interesting fact that John Paul Jones, the most noted naval character of American history in the war of the revolution, once owned an extensive tract of land in Ohio. It is evidence of his Scotch thrift and good business judgment that he held on to the land to the time of his death. Many others, prominent in the war, who secured Ohio land disposed of it in short order.

Born in Kirkcubrightshire in 1747, he went to sea at the age of 12 and the ship he was with being in American trade, he eventually cast his lot with the Americans. As the commander of a war vessel in the war of the revolution he displayed great skill and intrepidity, harassing the British at their very shores. His real name was John Paul. Late in young manhood he added the name Jones for some unknown reason.

After the close of the revolution he went to Europe and making Paris his home became a soldier of fortune. He died here in 1795. A hundred and thirteen years afterward through the efforts of Hon. Horace Porter who was living abroad as a diplomat his burial place was discovered, his remains absolutely identified and brought by a U. S. naval ship to the United States, and now lie beneath the chancel in the grounds of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

His land interests in Ohio consisted of five shares in the Ohio Company's Purchase of 1137 3/4 acres each. In the survey they are denominated "fractions four, eighteen, twenty-four, thirty and thirty-six in the fifth township of the thirteenth range of the Ohio River Survey, and the tract lies in what is now civil township Canaan in Athens county.

John Paul Jones lived a bachelor to his death, and leaving no will this property passed by descent to Mary Ann Lowden, a sister and to a number of nieces and nephews all living in Dumfries, Scotland. The administration of the estate, using the power of attorney method sold the property here for $5000 and divided the proceeds among the heirs. That sale was made in 1818.

OUR BED-TIME STORY.
FOR TINY TIMES-DEMOCRAT FOLKS

Well, let's see. In the last story the little folks had started out to explore the castle and the acres and acres of park that surrounded it.

It was such a beautiful day outside that the children couldn't wait to see all of the castle before going out.

So they pulled open one of the big doors and romped away down one of the white pebbled driveways.

The driveway was lined with beautiful shrubs and flowers. Little gateways in the shrubs left the children in on velvety lawns, where they ran about playing tag and chasing each other, who seemed to enjoy it as much as they did.

They followed the driveway as it wound round and round and presently came to an immense stone building, which Jack recognized right away as the stables.

The big doors were open, and he could see that part of the barn was devoted to beautiful horses and small ponies, and the other part contained several automobiles.

The children were interested in the ponies, of course, just like all of us would be. There was a kind of man straightening up things around the barn and when the children came in he asked "Are you the little ones who are visiting King Charles and the Queen?"

When Jack told him they were he said "Well, these three brown and white ponies here belong to you and the two little girls as long as you are here. The king told me to tell them ready and tell you about it."

when you came. They are to be used when you just want to roam around about the castle grounds and the roads near here. When you want to go farther I will call one of the drivers who will take you in that big purple touring car, for that is yours, too, as long as you are with us."

I don't have to tell you that the children were awfully pleased and decided to try the ponies right away. When the children asked the man what his name was, he said, "Why, they just call me the groom."

"Well, we are going to call you Daddy Groom," said Jane.

In a few minutes Daddy Groom had saddled the ponies and helped the children up onto them. He showed Jack how to help the girls onto their ponies, too, so that Jack could assist them when they were out riding.

Booth felt pretty blue when he saw the children getting ready to ride but when the ponies trotted out of the barn and he saw what dainty little steeds they took he decided that he could keep up with them without much trouble and that if he ever did get tired he could jump up on Jack's pony and sit in front of Jack on the saddle.

The little party jogged down the pathway from the barn, the children being so happy that they almost forgot that they had never ridden before and that it required some attention to keep seated in the saddles as the ponies trotted along. Once or twice all of them were in danger of being brushed off their ponies by overhanging branches they had not seen hanging from trees along the road.

The children spent the whole morning riding about the castle grounds and had a million things to tell Daddy and Captain Brave about what they had seen when they returned for lunch.

The children didn't know that all the while they had been riding one of the guards of the castle had kept near them on a horseback to help them if they became lost or accidentally fell off their ponies so they were really proud of their trip and their big accomplishment.

Without meaning to cast any reflection upon a witness at the investigation now being held by a congressional committee, it can be stated that these thousands of fighting men who have returned to us, heroes, are not the ones who complain of ill treatment at officers' hands at the hands of the food nor at the nature of the bedding. We have had several hundred thousand of these real fighting men with us in the past, and they have told their stories in the many neighborly talks to which they have returned. But we do not hear tales of hardship or of ill-treatment from them nor complaints about the way they were treated by their officers. And all things considered, we much prefer the testimony of the fighting men at the front to that of the fellow who spent his time in a prison camp, even if he says he was mistreated.

FAUROT-CHARLES RAY
"Greased Lightning" is the title of the new Paramount picture at the Faurot starring Charles Ray. The picture is one that will delight all of the Ray fans and they seem to be in legion for the Faurot was well filled at even the first showing this afternoon and for the greater part, the audiences were all Ray fans, judging at least from the comment in the theatre and the lobby.

It is a corking Ray story from any angle that one wants to review it. It possesses action, pathos, love interest, and above all, that wonderful Ray personality in a role that gives him every chance in the world to work on the sympathies of the audience. He is a small-town youth who is the jack-of-all-trades and the way that he finally patches up an old Henry that he has swapped in and makes a racing car out of it is almost a story in itself.

Of course there is the villain and his accomplices in the yarn, and the little old Henry comes in handy to run them down when they rob the bank and make off in a high-powered car. The boy manages to capture them both and in return wins the hand of the banker's daughter and the promise from the old man himself that he will present them with a new auto even though he was decidedly set against all sort of contraptions of that sort earlier in the story.

Wanda Hawley plays the lead opposite the star, and she managed to invest her role with a girlish whimsicality that was most appealing. There were several little tricks of "Golf love" exposed in some of the scenes between her and Ray that struck home to all of those that can recall the days when they too were young and foolish. Robert McKim was a most acceptable heavy and the balance of the cast was quite up to the standard.

"Greased Lightning" will please any kind of a picture audience, and it possesses enough thrills to make the most ardent excitement fan sit up and take notice.

A new "Smiling Bill" Parsons comedy is among the added features.

AT THE LYRIC

A photoplay treat that will be appreciated by every theatre-goer will be Geraldine Farrar, the great American opera star in her latest production "Shadow," at the Lyric Friday and Saturday.

The story is simple in its fundamentals and therefore strong in its appeal. Miss Farrar is Muriel Barnes, happily married to a New York financier. Devoted to their child, life seems to her to lack nothing. When Craftley, a stranger seeks to gain her husband's support in a mining scheme she feels that the first cloud—or shadow—has appeared on her horizon. And the man senses that Muriel is familiar to him. He asks his partner Jack McGoff, about the Alaskan girl he is always looking for and in her photograph Craftley sees the present Mrs. Barnes.

Acting on his wife's warning Barnes declines to invest in Craftley's scheme. Then the fellow telephones Muriel calling her a name which reveals his knowledge of her past—and Alaska. She is ordered to persuade her husband to go into the deal at the peril of having him know of her now forgotten life. How Muriel extricates herself from this is developed in the play.

TO AID A NEIGHBOR

A number of the residents of the east end are planning an ice cream social to be given on the evening of August 13 for the benefit of Harry Dismar, 1136 East Elm street, whose home was completely demolished several weeks ago by a gas explosion from unknown origin. Dismar was unable to collect damages, and the house and contents were a complete loss. The committee in charge includes Otto Hoffman, Robert Hoffman, Ora O'Dell, A. R. Rockhill, Charles Barr, H. H. Brown and C. S. Pettler.

According to a North Carolina chemist a palatable oil equal in food value to olive oil can be obtained from cockle bur kernels.

NEW SWEET CORN

If you want good fresh sweet butter for your sweet corn, use Good Luck. There is no better butter than Good Luck.

ALLEGES DESERTION.
In common pleas court late Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Louella R. Clay, 230 North Baxter street, filed suit for divorce from Curtis A. Clay, salesman alleging desertion in her petition. The couple were married December 14, 1896, in Van Wert. They have a son, Frantz, aged 20.

INDIGESTION
Caused by Acid-Stomach
Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.
There are other stomach disorders which also are signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating, food poisoning, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless, traceable to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, chronic constipation, indigestion, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental maladies that keep the victim in miserable health year after year.
The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.
One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion for about nine years, and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."
We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big box from him today. We will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

A Chance to Live
(By Zoe Beckley)

When they got back to the boat decent old guy, you know. Well, if house Bernie ran the skiff in through the narrow opening with fair skill Annie thrilled again at his capable muscles. And when he helped her out onto the narrow footway he gave her arm a little squeeze that sent a pleasant tingle through her.
Thus Annie's introduction to a real life many degrees better than she had yet known was at least fairly triumphant. The worse feature was the "feeling home." She hated to have young Mr. Carroll know the decrepitude of the tenement where she lived. During the trip down on the third avenue elevated she tore redoubled her efforts to shine and make him shine. She succeeded so well that Bernie, obviously impressed both with her success as a boat club comrade and her charm as a girl, was soon telling of her plans and ambitions.
"I been with old Simms over a year now," he said, crossing his knees and leaning toward Annie confidentially. "I'll be twenty-one in January and I ought to know pretty much about the business by then. Simms said he'd gimme a raise on my twenty-first birthday if I kept on making good. Simms is a real

Betty Fairfax's Ready Advice
Chats with the Love-lorn—
—Answers to Missives
Dear Miss Fairfax: I read your recipe for elderberry wine and intended to cut it out. However, I neglected to do it and am asking you to print it again. S. E. S.
Ans.—As an accommodation I will print this recipe for the second time. Use two quarts of blossoms (being sure to use only the blossoms as the stems will make the wine bitter,) six gallons of water, 18 pounds of sugar. Dissolve the sugar in the water, then let it come to a boil; pour it over the blossoms and let it cool. Add two cakes of yeast and the juice and rind of two lemons and let the mixture stand eight days, stirring it every day. Then strain carefully and put in jugs, using a pound of raisins for each jug. Let stand for five or six months, then draw it off and bottle it. Put a small grape leaf over each jug and a small sand bag to hold it down. One half of this recipe may be used.
Dear Miss Fairfax: I am expecting to give a theatre party and luncheon for several young girls between the ages of 17 and 18. Is it necessary to have a chaperon? How long before the party should the invitations be sent out, or is it necessary to have them? It is to be a birthday party but I do not want my guests to know it. X. Y. Z.
Ans.—Since the theatre party is to be in the afternoon following a luncheon, it is not necessary to have a chaperon. However, it always looks nice to have mother present with her daughters when they entertain.

DELIGHTFUL MUSICALS

Mr. and Mrs. B. Harley Holmes, of Lakewood avenue, entertained a number of friends with one of their delightful musicales on Wednesday evening. There was, in addition to the local musicians present, of former singer of marked ability, Mrs. Harry Gayer, (Helen Thompson), who has delighted many an ear with her remarkable voice. Mrs. Gayer has been absent for a year, and as always her friends were charmed with her songs, Wednesday evening. One particularly pretty song was "Will O' the Wisp," which was very well done.

Edison Lerch was another singer, whose voice is exceptionally pleasing, and who was asked repeatedly to favor the guests.

Miss Violet Bradley, a true artist, played three piano selections, all beautiful. The ensemble numbers, with either Miss Bradley or Ralph P. Mackenzie at the piano, Dr. E. J. Curtiss playing cello, Mr. Ben Schults, clarinet, and Mr. Holmes, violin, were especially good, and they were prevailed upon to play again and again. They responded beautifully, as each one is a true musician and plays for the real enjoyment of playing.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were charming host and hostess, making their

ALL DISEASED WHEAT TO BE DISINFECTED

Stubble and Straw Will Be Burned to Eradicate Smut in Indiana and Illinois

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Indications are that the dread foreign foe of wheat, stem smut and take-all will not become widespread in the United States. The United States department of agriculture announced today that the two states where these diseases appeared, Indiana and Illinois, had taken steps which would prevent the spread of the diseases from the infected fields and which would wipe out in a few years, the infection in fields where it exists.

All the infected wheat in both states is under control and will be disinfected before any use whatever is made of it, the department has been advised. All straw and stubble are to be burned, threshing machines are to be thoroughly disinfected and no wheat is to be grown in infected areas for several years.

AMERICAN WIFE OF GERMAN THURST INTO VILE JAIL FOR AIDING PRISONERS' ESCAPE

Mrs. Margaret Gentz Fuhrman.

After enduring untold sufferings in German jails, Mrs. Margaret Gentz Fuhrman, daughter of a Chicago publisher, is back home. When the war began she was in Germany, the wife of a German artist named Fuhrman. Their opposing views led her to apply for a divorce, as she could not leave Germany while still a subject. Her suit was forgotten in the hurry of war time and she began doing war work. She was appointed to a post censoring British mail at a camp near Berlin and time and again she aided prisoners to escape. With a Yank and a Tommy she herself escaped and got as far as Hamburg. She was in the vilest of prisons for more than a year and when she got out weighed only 75 pounds.

Rev. James McKinley, Forest, extended the hand of fellowship on behalf of the ministers. Rev. Franklin Stiles, of the First Baptist church, delivered the charge to the minister, and Rev. Robert Hughes, Bucyrus, the charge to the people.

with as many of them as possible before starting on his speaking tour.

President Wilson has denied published reports that he had told senators he was responsible for the Shantung settlement in the treaty with Germany.

The first public expression on the Shantung settlement came from the White House in the form of a statement declaring "altogether false" published reports that the president had formulated the provision. The statement continued that Wilson had "exerted all the influence he was at liberty to exercise in the circumstances" to secure modification of the arrangement giving control of the peninsula to Japan.

Condensed Classic Series

The Lima Times' Fascinating Fiction Feature

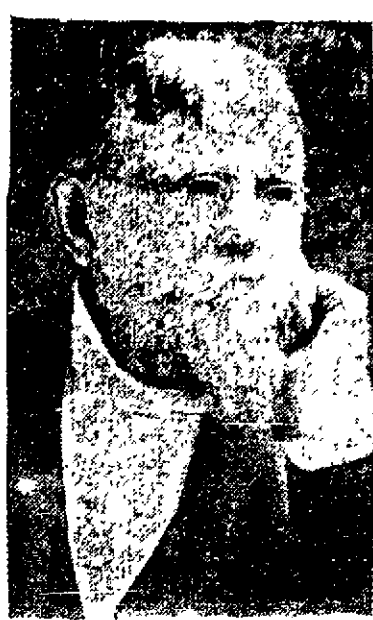

TODAY—"Ben Hur: A Story of the Christ," by Lew Wallace.
FRIDAY—"Kenilworth," by Sir Walter Scott.

WALLACE

Lewis Wallace, generally known by the shorter name Lew, was born in 1827 at Brookville, Ind., quite unconsciously, potent in spreading the idea, dear to some, that in that state is located the literary center of this country. He died in 1905.

Like the students of today in the great struggle, he left his services for the Mexican war. He served again in the Civil war and rose to be major-general in the volunteer army. As after the Mexican episode, he returned again to the law; he was governor of Utah from 1878 to 1881, and minister to Turkey from 1881 to 1885, when as a good diplomat he won the esteem of the late unimpaired Abdul-Hamid and could really put through business with that scientifically dilatory tyrant.

He is known by his three books, "The Fair God," (1873), "Ben Hur" (1880), and "The Prince of India" (1893). The first is a very clever reconstruction of the story of the conquest of Mexico by the Spaniards. The reader feels a great sympathy with the highly developed natives who fell helpless before the superior arms of the invaders. The story, however, is by no means to be put in the same class with "Ben-Hur." The skill, the knowledge, the reverence with which the story of Christ is told (largely through the lives of others) have made "Ben-Hur" one of the books to take a secure hold on the public, both as book and on the stage, where the famous chariot race has won a classic place.

BEN-HUR: A Tale of the Christ

By LEW WALLACE

Condensation by Prof. William Fenwick Harris of Cambridge, Mass.

"The workmen put their hands to the cross, and carried it, burden and all, to the place of planting. At a word they dropped the tree into the hole; and the body of the Nazarene also dropped heavily, and hung by the bleeding hands. Still no cry of pain—only the exclamation divined of all recorded exclamations:

"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

"The cross, roared now above all other objects, and standing singly out against the sky, was greeted with a burst of delight; an all who could see and read the writing on the board over the Nazarene's head made haste to decipher it. Soon as read, the whole legend was adopted by them and communicated, and presently the whole mighty concourse was ringing the salutation from side to side, and repeating it with laughter and groans.

"King of the Jews! Hail, King of the Jews!"

The sun is rising rapidly to noon; the hills bared their brown breasts lovingly to it; the more distant mountains rejoiced in the purple with which it so regally dressed them. In the city the temples, palaces, towers, pinnacles, and all points of beauty and prominence seemed to lift themselves into the untroubled brilliance, as if they knew the pride they were giving to the many who from time to time turned to look at them. Suddenly a dimness began to fill the sky and cover the earth—at first so more than a scarce perceptible fading of the day; a twilight out of time; an evening gliding in upon the splendors of noon. But it deepened, and directly drew attention; where at the noise of the shouting and laughter fell off, and men, doubting their senses, gazed at each other curiously; then they looked to the sun again; then at the latter had been. The unhappy Jew was sent as a rower to the galleys, where the limit of life was at most but a year. His mother and sister were immured in a secret cell in the Tower of Antonia, where they were doomed to the fate of lepers. The only act of kindness Ben-Hur could remember during the years that followed was on the day he was dragged to the galleys. "The hand laid kindly upon his shoulder awoke the unfortunate man, and looking up, he saw a face he never forgot—the face of a boy about his own age, shaded by locks of yellowish bright chestnut hair; a face lighted by dark blue eyes, at the time so soft, so appealing, so full of love and holy purpose, that they had all the power of command and will." This was in Nazareth.

How Ben-Hur in time became a rower on the flagship of Arrius, dumvir and admiral, how the flagship was destroyed in a great sea-fight, how Ben-Hur rescued the admiral, became his adopted son and his heir, learned at Rome the manner of Roman war and Roman sports, returned to the East a Roman officer in the train of a consul setting forth on a great campaign against the Parthians; how he discovered that his father's old steward Simonides had succeeded in saving from confiscation the vast untouchable wealth of the Hurs and had multiplied it many times, till the young Roman-Jew was the richest private citizen in the world; the discovery that Messala was entered for the highest stake in the great sporting event of the orient; how Ben-Hur won the affection of Ilderim, the Arab Sheikh who had entered his steeds of the desert for the great event—all this leads up to the dramatic encounter of the famous chariot race. The author drew his description of the race from one written over twenty-three hundred years ago by the tragic poet Sophocles. It is one of the curiosities of literature that the great scene, through the pages of Lew Wallace's novel, has become as famous on our stage as it was long ago on that of Greece.

By his victory in the arena Ben-Hur exacted ancient Jewish justice on his hated adversary, who was crushed in body and impoverished in fortune—he had wagered on his success all the wealth he had stolen from his former friend. The victor almost fell prey, however, to the vampire daughter of Egypt who was rival for his love with the gentle Jewish Esther. But henceforth his thoughts were concentrated on Him who was attacking all eyes. Was he Messiah or King? Ben-Hur, in his hatred of Rome, in his pride of race, dreamed only of a King of this world, who should right ancient wrongs and exalt his chosen people. And so he threw himself with all his force, with all his wealth, with all the knowledge gained at Rome, into making secure and strong the way of the King whom he would follow. But it was for one supreme in things spiritual rather than material that the way was being made ready. And Ben-Hur, mother, rescued with her daughter from her long imprisonment by a chance change of jailers, but hopeless lepers both, saw the truth sooner than her son.

"O Master, Master!" she cried as he passed upon the road. "Thou hast seen our need, thou canst make us clean. Have mercy upon us—mercy!"

"Believest thou I am able to do this?" he asked.
"Thou art he of whom the prophets spoke—thou art the Messiah!" she replied. His eyes grew radiant, his manner confident.

"Woman," he said, "great is thy faith; he it unto thee even as thou wilt."
And so in the end, Ben-Hur recognized what Balthezar had known from the beginning. "O wise Egyptian, hearken! Thou alone were right—the Nazarene is indeed the Son of God!"

DELPHOS

DELPHOS PLANS TO GET A BIG FACTORY

DELPHOS, July 24.—Arrangements for the campaign to raise the funds which will be required to bring the American Road Machinery company addition to this city were made at a meeting held at the Commercial club rooms Tuesday evening.

The plan which will be followed is similar to that which was used for the Liberty Loan drives. Committees have been selected to canvass the town and each committee has been allocated a certain amount of territory. Pledge cards have been prepared and will be distributed to the chairmen of the various district committees at once.

The board of commissioners of Van Wert county went to Paulding Tuesday to attend the joint meeting held in the proposed addition to the state road from Hicksville south through Payne and to the Lincoln highway at a point in the northwest part of Van Wert county. The proposed extension of the road would make about two miles of it in Van Wert county and for this reason joint county action will be necessary.

Delphos and vicinity have a total incoming and outgoing tonnage of 263,362 tons according to figures which have been compiled by J. K. Williams who has had charge of the work locally for the Delphos branch of the Central Inland Waterways association.

The compiling of this data was attended with considerably difficulty owing to the size of the territory to be covered and also to the fact that a great number of people delayed the handing in of data. The field has been covered thoroughly and systematically.

Sergeant Ira Huber, son of Mrs. Samantha Huber, of West Sixth street, arrived home Monday night, coming to this city from Camp Sherman, where he received his release from the army. He was in the service two years and in France about a year and a half. He bears a decoration for being an expert rifleman.

John Pothast, Sr., living southwest of Delphos, was stricken with paralysis Tuesday afternoon. The stroke affected his left arm and face. His physician stated Wednesday morning that he was in no immediate danger, although his condition was serious.

ST. MARYS

MAN BADLY HURT IN A MOTOR CRASH

ST. MARYS, July 24.—Ed Winomiller was rendered unconscious and had three ribs fractured when struck by a motor vehicle occupied by William Limbacher and family.

The accident occurred on the road a mile east of the village of St. Johns. The Limbacher family in their conveyance were enroute from Lakeview to St. Marys. At the place mentioned a man, unexpected to them, stepped from behind a threshing outfit and into the course of their travel. He was struck and felled.

Having been secretly married June 24th, 1919, at Covington, Ky., Harry Boltz and Elizabeth Miller surprised their friends, Tuesday evening, when the announcement was uniquely made at a shower given for Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harrison at the S. J. Evans residence, East High street.

On charges preferred by Mrs. Jno. Young of Center Township, Mercer county, Mrs. Sam S. Younger, Mercer in the same township and near Neptune, was arraigned before Probate Judge Younger, of Celina, and found to be insane. She was taken to the Toledo State hospital. The probate judge who judged Mrs. Younger insane is her cousin.

The 35c readiness-to-serve monthly charge granted by the state utility commission to the St. Marys Gas Co. and others, continues to be a live topic. Today's item on the subject says it is useful that the solicitor be sent to the state supreme court to protest against the charge. Otherwise it may be taken for granted that Council is willing to have the charge imposed. Such action has already been filed by Lima council. This procedure is said to affect Lima only. Other towns getting service through the same pipe lines need to file its own protest in order to get consideration.—Leader.

BANKER EDW HELLER SUDDENLY EXPIRES

WAPAKONETA, July 24.—Edward Heller, one of the best known citizens of Wapakoneta, died suddenly and unexpectedly at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at his home, 110 Main street while sitting in a chair. He was attacked by embolism, a form of paralysis due to stoppage of an artery, and died a few moments later.

The First National Bank, where Mr. Heller was employed as assistant cashier, was closed during the afternoon, and Mr. Heller was at his home. His son, Louis, noting that Mr. Heller appeared ill, summoned a physician, but it was too late. Mr. Heller had been in poor health for many months.

He was a member of the I. O. O. F. and was a Trustee of the Elks' lodge. His age was 55 years and 26 days.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE WILL PLAY FRIDAY

Owing to Circus Being Here Saturday, All Games Are Moved Up One Day

Owing to the fact that there's a circus in this man's town Saturday the Industrial League will stage its performance tomorrow afternoon. While the attendance is not anticipated to be so great on Friday as it has been and probably would be on Saturday, nevertheless the games promise to be a great deal more torrid.

Interest in the industrial league has picked up at least 150 per cent as the result of the trophy to be awarded the winner of the pennant. Each team in the circuit is determined to have that cup, and the majority are in hopes of capturing the rag for three straight years so as to have the trophy remain with them permanently.

At Murphy street ball yard, the Chalmers aggregation will endeavor to mop up with the team from the Garford plant, while the Ohio Steel Foundry and Grifman-Bernstein will cross bats on the college grounds. At City Park, the Clearmakers and East Iron Works will battle for supremacy.

Jimmy Hamilton, once the greatest base runner in the National league, is making good as a manager of the Peoria club in the Three-Eye league. His team is setting the pace for the circuit.

Frank Ellerbe, sent to the Birmingham club by Clark Griffith, is hitting the ball hard these days. He hopped up thirty points last week to the .298 mark and gives every evidence of finishing in the 300 class.

PAYS IN ST. LOUIS.

Baseball in St. Louis as exemplified by Browns this year for once is going to be highly profitable. When the Philadelphia club played there on a recent Sunday 26,000 fans crowded into the park for the largest crowd at that baseball plant since 1916. When one considers that the tail-enders were the attraction, this is remarkable. Besides, Bobby Quinn is said to be the most popular baseball man in the Mound City. Patrons like to be treated square anywhere on this old globe, and appreciate it. That is what Bobby is going and with his team going so nicely, Phil Ball for once can say that he is a "heart content" club owner.

According to present arrangements Terry Kellar, the local light heavyweight will be pitted against Harry Greb or Battling Levinsky. Levinsky is the light heavyweight champion and Kellar is anxious to get him in a decision bout but it seems that Levinsky wants to dodge 15-round decision bouts.

CLEVELAND FANS RUN THAT TEAM

Owner of Indians Listen to the Voice of the People Regarding Nine

Cleveland is one major league city in which fans run the baseball club. The ownership there always has listened to the voice of the people, which accounts for so many managerial changes in mid-season.

Years ago President Somers had made up his mind to release Larry Leja. Larry had been off duty for weeks, but one day he was put in to bat in a pinch. Larry got a two-base hit and the bugs went dippy. "See that," said Somers. "Larry can never be released as long as the fans are for him like that."

On the same theory Lee Fohl was released a few days ago, when fans got strong for his retirement. This is one way to keep a town alive as a baseball gold mine, but it is not always the best way to win flags. This may be one reason why Cleveland never has connected. But the fans seem to enjoy running the club and the management is getting the coin, so why worry.

WOUNDED SERB BECOMES INSANE

STUBENVILLE, O., July 24.—Mike Ivanscep, 49, a Serbian ran amuck in the West Virginia hills, across the river from here for three days and was finally captured by Weirton police yesterday and taken to the Hancock county jail, at New Cumberland. He is said to be insane as the result of being clubbed over the head at Mingo Junction a week ago when he was robbed of $1500, his life's savings. When caught he was wearing two coats and carried an overcoat and umbrella and the pockets of all his clothing were fitted with rocks. He offered the police $10,000 if they would not hurt him.

GARRY HERRMANN WAS RIGHT IN HIS CONTENTION ABOUT GAME

Disputed Game Will Be Played As It Stood at End of Sixth Inning

NEW YORK, July 24.—President John A. Heydler of the National league, announced a revised finding on the protested Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game of July 6 whereby only the uncompleted three innings of the contest will be played. Under this ruling it will not be necessary to replay the entire game as was originally ordered.

In accordance with this ruling the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh clubs are directed to start their next scheduled game at Cincinnati at least one half hour earlier than usual and "within fifteen minutes of the completion of this game place on the field their respective teams as nearly as possible in lineup as in the uncompleted game of July 6."

"They will start with the seventh inning with the score 2 to 0 in favor of Cincinnati and will play out the game to its legal termination," said Mr. Heydler's statement. "The first batsman for Pittsburgh will be No. 2 in the box score, Nicholson; for Cincinnati No. 8, Wingo, as designated by the records of the official box scorer.

This controversy has been the cause of much speculation among Lima fans, and a wonderful lot of interest has been created in it. Inside dope, says Garry Herrmann, president of the Reds cited a well remembered precedent to support his contention that Cincinnati and the Pirates must play off that disputed game as it stood at the end of the sixth inning on July 6.

Here's the dope about that contest for the benefit of those who may have overlooked it:

The Reds were leading, 3 to 0, when the game was called by agreement to allow the Cincinnati team to catch a six o'clock train for Boston.

The National League Directors, at their meeting in New York expunged this game from the records, and ordered it replayed from start to finish.

Herrmann insisted that the Reds should be spotted their two runs and that only the last three innings be played unless a tie score necessitates extra rounds.

The precedent which Herrmann relied upon to legalize the first six innings of the game played July 6 was established several years ago and the Giants were the victims thereof.

During the season of 1912 the Phillies were bitter and dangerous rivals of the Giants. Fights on the field were frequent when the Giants appeared in Philadelphia and some of the Philly fans even went to the trouble of waylaying the New York players after they dressed and left the grounds.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Bullish enthusiasm was uppermost at the outset of today's stock market operations, speculative enthusiasm making material additions to recent gains. Stomberg Carborundum was again the sensational feature, adding some ten points to yesterday's 20 point advance in the first half hour. Steel, food shares and tobacco were to 4 points higher, and off and shipping made moderate progress. Ralls were relatively backward and railroad tobacco forfeited part of yesterday's substantial rise.

The violent fluctuations of Stomberg which reacted from 104 to 91 and rallied to 95; it assumed a commanding position, gaining 2 points, motors and their specialties advancing 2 to 6, oil and food shares 1 1/2 to 4 and tobacco and shipping 1 1/2 to 4. The activity was shown by equipment, aside from leather and textiles, which were in further demand and ralls remained in the market. Call money opened at 6 to 6 1/2 per cent.

ROSTER OF THE BODY

Colonels, Majors, Captains
and Lieuts. Have Shown In Great War

Just about this date, 15 years ago, members of the National Guard company, of this city, had completed the formulation of plans for attending the annual camp of the old Second Ohio Regiment. On the night of August 15, 1904, Companies C and K, left Lima for Kenton, and from there proceeded to Camp Armitage, near Athens, Ohio.

The roster of the old company contains the names of men yet familiar in military circles in Lima. The majority of these men who served in those days have played prominent parts in the recent World War. Several men who were privates back in those days now wear bars on their shoulders.

Following is a story of the department, and also a roster of old Company C as it ran in The Times-Democrat, on August 16, 1904:

Lima members of the Ohio National Guard, including the officers and men of Companies C and K, Adjutant John M. Bingham and Chaplain R. J. Thomson left over the Erie at 9:15 o'clock last night for Kenton, from which place they proceeded to Camp Armitage which is located near Athens, Athens county, Ohio, for a week's encampment and army maneuvers. The members of Company C will take every advantage offered during the encampment to prepare themselves for the competitive drills in which they will participate at St. Louis in September.

COMPANY NOW IN CHARGE OF GARBAGE

Numerous calls are daily received at the health board from various residents of the city, inquiring into the garbage removal matter, and requesting them to send cans to their residences. The board of health has no part in this work, and persons are requested to call the Sanitary Garage headquarters, 212 1/2 South Main street, or Main 5369 and the matter will be attended to.

The disposal of garbage is being handled as quickly as possible, according to Dr. Burton, health officer, as a number of wagons are covering the city. The cans are furnished free by the company, but they charge 10 cents per month for the removal of the garbage.

SHOW WINDOWS IN LIMA ATTRACTIVE TO ALL BEHOLDERS

A never-ending source of interest these July days are the Lima merchants' show windows, the special end of the season sales making their displays of vital interest to the feminine shoppers and housewives, and in fact, to every member of the family in those times of high prices. Lima merchants take a special pride in making their windows attractive and their displays from day to day are a lesson in human progress.

In the past few years, since department and dry goods stores as well as other kinds of stores have been conducted on such gigantic scales, more thought is given to the average show window than most people imagine. Its arrangement is an art known to but few, who make it their profession. Thousands of persons, young and old see these displays, and many find inspiration in which is shown in the windows as they pass along.

New ideas not only in dress, but in home furnishings and what not are gained by a visit to the downtown section, and a look in the various display windows as the passerby strolls past. During the war thousands of men, women and children were interested spectators in the windows where various kinds of war relics were shown. The large war maps showing the progress of the allies from day to day were always studied with interest. In windows where Allen county or Lima boys were shown, either in the khaki uniform of Uncle Sam or the blue uniform of the navy, many friends and acquaintances stopped to view them.

EARLY FUNERAL FRIDAY.

Funeral services for Ralph Earley, 14 years of age, who lost his life by drowning Tuesday night at the Fetter stone quarry, northeast of Lima, will be held Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock at Pleasant View church, Rice Water lands to officiate. Burial will be made in Lewis Grove cemetery. Besides the bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Earley, three sisters survive. The boy was an only son.

FARMERS TOO BUSY TO ELECT AGENT

Up to the present time no action has been taken by the Allen county farm bureau to appoint a county agent for this county. A meeting was held last week, but as a full quorum was not in attendance, no appointment could be made. It is expected that another meeting will be called in about a week or ten days, when the harvesting season is over. Many calls are daily made at the agents' office in Memorial Hall by farmers requesting various information.

RECRUITERS COMING

The Lima navy recruiting office is expecting sometime during the next week, the arrival of a traveling recruiting party in a navy truck, with complete equipment. They are making a tour of the country, giving demonstrations of navy life, for the purpose of boosting the two and three year enlistments.

ACCIDENT IN SHOP CAUSES DEATH OF E. J. COURTNEY, 50

Fragment of Emery Wheel

IS ALONE AT TIME

Family, Waiting His Arrival at Supper Terribly Shocked
By Sad News

While the family of Ellsworth J. Courtney, 50 years of age, residing at 128 West McKibben were awaiting his return from work for supper about 6 o'clock Wednesday night, Courtney was being removed to an undertaking establishment, having succumbed to injuries sustained by a flying fragment from an emery wheel on which he was working at the Lima Locomotive Works.

His wife and two younger daughters, Phyllis and Bernadine awaited anxiously for two hours for the husband and father, and were not aware of the fatal accident which caused his death until a son Howard Courtney, 518 West Spring street arrived and told them of the tragic event. Mrs. Courtney is prostrated with grief.

Courtney together with William McNamara had just completed an hour's work overtime and were preparing to go home, when McNamara stepped out of the room for a few minutes, leaving Courtney alone. He returned just in time to see Courtney collapse from the impact of the flying steel which cut a large artery in his shoulder. The Siford ambulance was called to the scene but the unfortunate man was dead, having died almost instantly.

Courtney had been with the Lima Locomotive Works for a number of years, but for the past few months had been laid off, together with a number of other employees. He had just returned to work about two weeks ago. He is survived by the widow, one son Howard, also an employee of the Lima Locomotive Works, four daughters, Mrs. Edward Bryon, Delphos, Mrs. William Jones, Denver, Colo., Phyllis and Bernadine at home, and a sister, Mrs. Mack Harper. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

CABLE CENSORSHIP IS DISCONTINUED

NEW YORK, July 24.—The cable censorship exercised by the navy department during the war ceased last night, when the New York office of the naval cable censor, which handled 85 per cent of the cable correspondence between Europe and most of North America, closed its doors.

The height of the cable censor's work was reached at the time of the signing the armistice, when there were 760 employees, including 55 officers and 600 conscripts.

The greater part of the work at the New York office was commercial. This office handled from 350,000 to 400,000 words a day in from 10,000 to 15,000 messages.

WATERLOO WAS SHORT

The historic battle of Waterloo was begun and finished in eight hours.

THE RAMBER'S COLUMN

The old song said "And He Rambled all Around."

The other evening two west-siders sat out on the front porch and discussed everything from politics to diseases.

One of them watched an automobile that had stopped in front of the house and noted a little smoke coming out from under the hood.

He remarked to his companion that the machine must be on fire, but the other gentleman promptly stated that it was his belief that it was only mist that looked like smoke.

In about a moment the sole occupant of the car began to throw out cushions and commenced to fight fire. A wire had become short-circuited and set fire to the car. A blaze around any car is dangerous because of the gasoline and this driver lost so time in finding the source of the blaze and extinguishing it.

Which only goes to show that from your front porch you may see something out of the ordinary. You don't always have to go down town to have a little excitement.

Any married man will agree with me that the loneliest place on earth is the house after the wife and kids have gone away for a vacation. The clock always ticks about four times as loud and every little noise seems exaggerated. No one seems to call over the telephone and not even the ice man deigns to stop at your house.

BIG HARVEST

FARMERS report a good yield of wheat and oats and all indications point to an excellent corn crop. The smaller grains do not harvest as heavily as expected, yet the year is a good one for the farmer.

Wouldn't a man appear absurd to neglect his planting and then at harvest time expect to find grain in abundance?

Something like this is the man who spends all his money, thinking that somehow his future needs will be provided for, or not thinking at all.

Start a savings account, plant all the money you can spare, and watch it grow. Five per cent interest may not make you rich but it will help a lot when the Autumn of life comes.

MILITARY AND NAVAL TERMS OFTEN PUZZLE

New Dictionary Aids Reading of War Reports

Definitions of military and naval terms grouped together under a single heading, is one of the special features of The New Universities Dictionary now being offered to readers of this paper, contributing to the splendid success attending the distribution of the book. Nearly everybody nowadays is reading about war, and not infrequently the reports from the other side contain some word or expression with which the average reader is unfamiliar.

The meaning of such terms can readily be had by turning to The New Universities Dictionary as well as that of many expressions which have come into more common usage since the Continent of Europe has become one vast battle ground and the high seas turned into a "daner zone" by the naval operations of the contending powers.

In all there are twenty-five of these supplementary dictionaries containing the definition of hundreds of words brought into general and proper use not only by the war in Europe, but by the forward steps in science, business, society, religion and the increasing popularity of sports of all kinds, which can be found in no dictionary other than the one this paper is distributing among its readers at a nominal cost.

Coupons are being redeemed in large quantities, so enthusiastically has the offer been received, and it is evident that The New Universities Dictionary is finding its way into the business office as well as the home.

WILL IMPROVE HIGHWAY

FINDLAY.—Improvement of the gap between Findlay and Bluffton on the Dixie highway has been authorized by Allen county commissioners. A third of a mile will be improved with bituminous bound macadam.

SLAYER FRIENDLESS.

COLUMBUS, July 24.—Paul Chiavaro, who was electrocuted here last night for the murder of Gethin Richards, Akron, policeman, has no relatives in this country. He will be buried in Potter's field here under supervision of Father Kelly, prison chaplain.

Cruise did when he was left out on that remote island just let the folks go away from home and stay away for a few days or even weeks.

Persons who visited the office of a well-known professional man the other morning soon after he made his appearance there for the day's routine of work found him engaged in activities somewhat remote from his usual professional duties.

Before the curtain fell on the open saloon in Ohio, he had made the purchase of a quart of Sherwood rye, this he took to his office and deposited carefully in a drawer of an office cabinet.

As he entered the office this certain morning he sniffed familiar fumes and upon investigation discovered that the bottle had in some manner been broken in the drawer. Whether or not carelessness upon the part of the janitor may have caused the accident in moving the cabinet about is not known but the professional man expressed the opinion that it was the pinnacle of hard luck.

Having in his young manhood assisted an undertaker in preparing bodies for burial, he immediately visited a drug store and secured a bottle of a certain kind of deodorizer with which he was once familiar, which he used to kill the odor of the liquor and it was in the act of applying this liquid that some of his friends observed him that morning.
